The scene is laid near Rochelle.

COUNT ROSENBERG, a young and gallant officer in the service and confidence of the Prince Elector, has fallen in love with the Princess Euphemia, the Elector's daughter, and betrayed the Prince's confidence by secretly marrying her. A child, Clara, being born, the Count to screen his own guilt has torn the infant from the bosom of Euphemia and secretly given it into the charge of an adventurer named Montalban, who was then one of his followers. It was supposed the child in charge of Montalban was his own daughter, while those who knew of the Count's secret marriage with Euphemia believed their child to be dead. Clara Montalban, as she was called, when fully grown, was placed by her reputed father in the service of the Marquis de Valmour, a general officer in the French army, to watch over his only son. Clara, however, being possessed of rare beauty, and accomplished manners, so enchanted the Marquis de Valmour, who had now become a widower, that he proposed to marry her, when Montalban, seeing in the child of the first marriage of Valmour an obstacle to the inheritance of the immense fortune of the Marquis, which fortune he hoped would devolve upon Clara and himself were the child removed, determined to murder him. Accordingly, one day Montalban found his way to the garden where Valmour's child was playing, and there slew him. In making his escape however, he was seen and detected by Clara, who was near the spot. When the horrible deed was discovered, Clara was accused of being the perpetrator, she being the only one who had the care of the child, and who could have an interest in committing the crime. She in vain protested her innocence, but her filial feeling would not permit her to accuse her own father. All proofs being against her, she was sentenced to death by the judges, only, through the interference of Count Rosenberg, who knew Clara was his daughter, a commutation of the sentence was obtained from the king, and she was condemned to pass the remainder of her life in a convent on the banks of the Rhine.

Clara, through the connivance of a good monk, Azino, to whom she had confessed her secret, has contrived to escape and take refuge in a farm near Rochelle, where she remained under the name of Olympia, protected by Friar Azino, who was Superior of the Convent of Monks in that vicinity. During this time the fortress of Rochelle was besieged by the Royal French army, and Valmour had been sent by the king to the besieging camp as a general officer. Count Rosenberg also, who had been absent for some time travelling, had returned home, together with his old and faithful servant MICHEL, the owner of the farm wherein Olympia was living, and had resumed his services in the army at the siege of Rochelle. The presence of Valmour having been made known to Clara, she goes to the convent to inform Azino of her perilous situation, and the danger of being discovered, and to invoke his assistance in finding some safer place of abode, but she is there met and recognized, in the presence of Michel and his wife, by Valmour himself who has happened to pass that way. Valmour who has always believed Clara innocent, entreats Marcella and Michel to keep the secret, and begs Clara to fly for safety. As Clara and Azino are on the point of leaving the convent, Rosenberg and Montalban arrive, bringing in wounded soldiers and monks after the attack on the fortress; on recognizing Clara, they proclaim her an object of horror to all near. Under their taunts Clara is almost driven to reveal her secret, and accuse her father, but Montalban threatening her with his malediction, contrives to make her silent, and she flies in despair. Meanwhile, Rosenberg, who believes her guilty, has repudiated her as his daughter, and Montalban, terrified at the idea of Clara accusing him of the murder, is scheming her destruction.

In the Chateau of Euphemia guests and vassals are celebrating the birthday of Euphemia, Count Rosenberg's wife, and Clara is discovered in distress with her garments torn. By order of Euphemia she is brought into the hall where she sinks down exhausted. Questioned by Euphemia Clara tells how she has escaped from Rochelle. Michel and Marcella now arrive to announce the approach of Count Rosenberg and Valmour, and are greatly astonished to find Clara there. During the ceremonies Clara is seen crossing the back of the hall attempting to escape, but is recognized by the Count and Marquis and denounced to the Princess as a person unworthy of her compassion. Montalban who has come with Rosenberg is now aware of the presence of Clara, and, in secret, proposes to remove her to the Indies. For this purpose Michel is requested to attend with a boat at night. Montalban watches his opportunity and orders Clara to follow him, but she refuses, saying: "I will not go with the assassin of Valmour's son!" Michel has overheard this and swears to protect the girl. She is seized by Montalban and dragged senseless to the boat, but when nearing the opposite bank Michel purposely capsizes it, and saves Clara by swimming with her to land. She is now placed in a hermitage, and disguised as a Sister of Mercy is conducted to Rochelle. Montalban having escaped drowning now becomes traitor, and being bribed by the Duke of Rohan, he betrays Rosenberg into the hands of the besieged. While Montalban is leading Rosenberg through the fortress, Clara, hidden from sight, overhears their conversation. Rosenberg accuses Montalban of treason and stigmatizes him as a man without honour or conscience. Montalban in his turn asks Rosenberg where his honour and conscience were when he betrayed the Elector's confidence and repudiated his daughter Clara, giving her to him, Montalban. Unable to restrain herself Clara rushes forward and asks Rosenberg if he and not Montalban is her father. On Rosenberg answering, yes! Clara points out Montalban as the assassin of Valmour's child, which revelation she could not make while supposing he was her father. Montalban endeavours to stab Rosenberg but Michel who has been made prisoner interposes in defence of his master. Montalban orders the guard to fire on all the rebels, but at this moment a shell striking the rampart near to Montalban, buries him under the ruins. A rumour of battle is heard, the fortress has been attacked by the besiegers, and Valmour at the head of the victorious army, enters through the breach. He comes to behold Clara justified and declared innocent of the horrible crime of which she had so long been accused.

OVERTURE.

PIANO-
FORTE.

The first system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and contains a melodic line with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature (C). It begins with a piano (p) dynamic marking and features a fermata over a measure. The lower staff is in bass clef and contains a rhythmic accompaniment. A second piano (p) dynamic marking appears at the end of the system.

The second system continues the musical piece. The upper staff shows a melodic line with a fermata and a piano (p) dynamic marking. The lower staff provides a rhythmic accompaniment with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

The third system features more complex rhythmic patterns. The upper staff includes a triplet of eighth notes and a piano (p) dynamic marking. The lower staff has a piano (p) dynamic marking.

The fourth system shows a change in dynamics. The upper staff has a piano (p) dynamic marking, while the lower staff has a fortissimo (ff) dynamic marking.

The fifth system concludes the page with a piano (p) dynamic marking in both staves.

Second system of musical notation. The right hand continues the melodic line, and the left hand features a more active accompaniment. The dynamic marking pp is placed above the left-hand staff.

Fifth system of musical notation. The right hand has a melodic line with a fermata at the end, and the left hand has a rhythmic accompaniment.

First system of a piano score. The right hand features a melodic line with slurs and accents, while the left hand provides a harmonic accompaniment. A cresc. marking is present in the middle of the system.

Second system of the piano score, continuing the melodic and harmonic development from the first system.

Third system of the piano score, featuring a p (piano) dynamic marking and a hairpin crescendo.

Fourth system of the piano score, marked with cresc. sempre (crescendo sempre).

Fifth system of the piano score, showing a continuation of the melodic and harmonic themes.

Sixth system of the piano score, featuring dynamic markings of ff (fortissimo) and p (piano).

First system of musical notation. The right hand (treble clef) features a melodic line with slurs and accents. The left hand (bass clef) provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. Dynamics include piano (p) and forte (f).

Second system of musical notation. The right hand continues the melodic line. The left hand features a more active accompaniment with chords and moving lines. Dynamics include piano (p) and forte (f).

Third system of musical notation. The right hand features a melodic line with slurs. The left hand features a steady accompaniment with chords. Dynamics include piano (p) and piano dolce (p dolce).

Musical score for "The Siege of Rochelle" (The Royal Edition). The score consists of vocal parts and piano accompaniment. The vocal parts are arranged in four systems, each with a treble and bass staff. The piano accompaniment is shown in grand staff notation (treble and bass clefs). The score includes dynamic markings such as ff (fortissimo) and dim. (diminuendo). The key signature is G major (one sharp), and the time signature is 2/4. The score concludes with a double bar line and a key signature change to G minor (one sharp and one flat).

Allegro moderato.

The first system of music consists of two staves. The treble staff begins with a whole rest followed by a series of chords and eighth notes, marked with an accent (>). The bass staff starts with a piano (p) dynamic and features a continuous eighth-note accompaniment.

The second system continues the piece. The treble staff has a forte (f) dynamic and includes several triplet markings (3) over eighth notes. The bass staff also features triplet markings and continues the eighth-note accompaniment.

The third system shows further development of the musical themes. Both staves contain triplet markings. The bass staff concludes with a crescendo (>) marking over a series of chords.

The fourth system introduces a vocal line in the treble staff with the lyrics: "Hope, once more this bosom fill, mine the". The piano accompaniment in the bass staff continues with eighth-note patterns. A piano (p) dynamic is indicated at the start of the piano part.

The fifth system continues the vocal line with the lyrics: "wreath of martial pride, valour ev'ry nerve shall". The piano accompaniment remains consistent with the previous system. Accents (>) are placed above the vocal notes.

PIANO-FORTE.

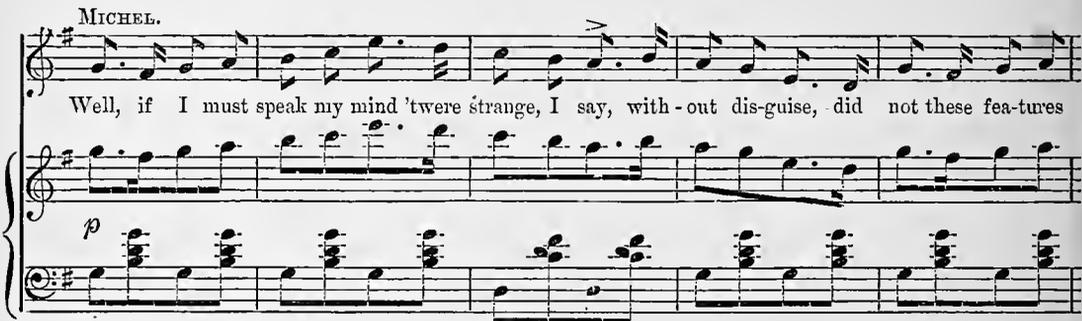

The first system of the piano introduction consists of two staves. The treble staff begins with a series of chords and a melodic line, while the bass staff provides harmonic support with chords and a bass line. Dynamic markings include ff (fortissimo) and p (piano).

The second system continues the piano introduction with similar textures in both staves, maintaining the Allegretto tempo.

The score consists of ten systems. The first five systems are vocal lines for a single voice, each with a treble clef and a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). The lyrics are: "my heart's pain, soothe my heart's pain, my her heart's pain, soothe her heart's pain, her the heart's pain, 'tis her heart's pain, soothe her heart's pain, soothe". The next five systems are piano accompaniment, with the right hand in treble clef and the left hand in bass clef. The key signature remains two sharps. The lyrics for the piano part are: "may you find, peace may you find, peace may you find, peace may you find, peace may you find, peace". The piano part features a steady bass line and a more active right hand with chords and some melodic lines.

First system of musical notation, consisting of a treble clef staff and a bass clef staff. The treble staff contains a melody with quarter and eighth notes, while the bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and moving lines.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece. The treble staff features a melodic line with some rests, and the bass staff continues with a steady accompaniment.

Third system of musical notation. The treble staff has a melodic phrase that concludes with a fermata, and the bass staff provides accompaniment.

Fourth system of musical notation, showing more complex rhythmic patterns in both staves, including sixteenth notes and chords.

Fifth system of musical notation, featuring a more active bass line with frequent chords and eighth notes.

Sixth system of musical notation, the final system on the page, showing a continuation of the musical themes with some rests and a final cadence.
