love thee? ask— but the star-lets, to whom I've of...ten in a...go-ny sued. Whether I love thee? ask but this rose bud, which I now send thee with warm tears be-dew'd. Whether I love thee? Ask— but ~~the~~ poco string:

rose bud, which I now send thee with warm tears bedew'd. a tempo. dim

Whether I love thee? ask but the light clouds,
 Which have so often my sorrows convey'd
 Whether I love thee? ask but the streamlets,
 In each, I've often thy image survey'd.
 Whether I love thee &c. &c.

Didst thou but love me, heavenly maiden,
 Oh then I'd own to thee, own it with pride
 That I do love thee, that I do call thee
 Always my angel and soon, to my bride.
 That I do love thee &c. &c.
