PREFACE.

The chief object of the "Continental Harmony," is to present in their original form, such favorite tunes composed by the early American Authors, as are to this day sung and heard with no less enthusiasm than in the times of our fathers. With this end in view, much attention has been given to the selection; many minds have been consulted, many books examined, many copies compared, and special pains have been taken that nothing should be admitted unworthy of preservation, and to render the Collection all that the most ardent friends of the undertaking could desire.

The labor of comparing copies and obtaining evidence of the genuineness of those accepted, has been great, but one for which the compilers are amply compensated in the fact of the general accuracy which marks the result of their efforts. While they have not compelled the early composers to appear in the costume of Modern Harmonists, nor obliged them to assume the strait jacket of the Musical Grammatist, they have been anxious to get rid of typographical errors which have too long marred the reprints of "Ancient" American music.

Whatever may be said of the laws which governed our fathers in the arrangement of their musical ideas, none can reasonably deny the abounding evidences of inspiration found in the works referred to. Neither can it be said of the "old composers," that they made books by merely garbling the thoughts of others who wrote before them. The "Continental Harmony" contains also quite a number of pieces by Handel, Haydn, Mozart, Kent, Arnold, Chapple, and others, which have been favorites with the public. They were sung at Ordinations and on Special Occasions, by the "best singers" in Billings and Holden's day—were loved then, are loved now, and will continue to be, so long as the human heart can vibrate with emotions responsive to the touch of devotional melody.

Of this Collection it may be said, that while in its character it is decidedly American, it is still somewhat European;—American, in that it contains so many of those soul-stirring compositions of our early writers and teachers of music;—European, because it includes, also, a considerable number of model Anthems and Pieces written by the greatest musical authors of the old world.

Another feature of this work is its "Secular Department," consisting of the most favorite Patriotic and Home Songs, selected as the most beautiful and chaste among the popular melodies of the day.

The publishers would here acknowledge their obligations to Col. F. B. Fay, Wm. C. Brown, Wm. Hawes, J. H. Osgood, E. N. Morse, and Samuel Lane, a committee of the "Chelsea Continental Musical Association," who have manifested a deep interest in the progress and success of this work; also, to R. C. Kemp, Conductor of the "Reading Old Folks Musical Society," Charles French, of Braintree, for valuable contributions and suggestions, and to many other societies and individuals for much valuable assistance in its preparation.

HYMN. "Haste, O sinner." 7s.

Andante.

1. Haste, O sinner; now be wise; Stay not, stay not, for the morrow's sun: Wisdom if you dare despise, Harder is it to be won.

2. Haste, and mercy now implore; Stay not, stay not, for the morrow's sun, Lest thy season should be o'er, Ere this evening's stage be run.

3. Haste, O sinner, now return; Stay not, stay not, for the morrow's sun, Lest thy lamp should cease to burn Ere salvation's work is done.

4. Haste, O sinner; now be blest; Stay not, stay not, for the morrow's sun, Lest per-dition thee ar-rest, Ere the morrow is be-gun.

The first system of the musical score consists of four staves. The top staff is the vocal line, starting with a treble clef, a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and a 4/4 time signature. It contains the lyrics for the first two lines of the first verse. The second and third staves are for the piano accompaniment, with the second staff featuring triplets. The bottom staff is a bass line, also in 4/4 time with two flats, providing harmonic support. Dynamics include piano (p), diminuendo (Dim.), and forte (f).

The second system of the musical score continues the composition. It features four staves. The vocal line (top staff) carries the lyrics for the second line of the first verse and the first line of the second verse. The piano accompaniment (middle staves) includes triplets and maintains the harmonic structure. The bottom staff is the bass line. The key signature and time signature remain consistent with the first system. Dynamics include piano (p).

The musical score is written for four staves. The first two staves are vocal parts, and the last two are piano accompaniment. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The score includes various musical notations such as slurs, accents, and dynamic markings like 'p' (piano) and 'Ritard.' (ritardando). The lyrics are printed below the notes, with some words split across lines. The piece concludes with a double bar line and repeat dots.

- 3 And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war, and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave,
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave :
And the star spangled banner in triumph doth wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.
- 4 Oh ! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved home and the war's desolation,
Bless'd with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the power that has made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto, " IN GOD IS OUR TRUST ;"
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 2/4. The lyrics are printed below the vocal line of each system.

3 Sound, sound the trump of fame,
 Let Washington's great name
 : Ring through the world with loud applause! :
 Let every clime, to freedom dear,
 Listen with a joyful ear;
 With equal skill, with steady power,
 He governs in the fearful hour
 Of horrid war, or guides with ease,
 The happier time of honest peace. Firm, united, &c.

4 Behold the chief, who now commands,
 Once more to serve his country, stands,
 : The rock on which the storm will beat! :
 But armed in virtue, firm and true,
 His hopes are fixed on heaven and you,
 When hope was sinking in dismay,
 When gloom obscured Columbia's day,
 His steady mind from changes free,
 Resolved on death or Liberty. Firm, united, &c.

Two Stanzas.

Patriotic Hymn, 347
For Anniversary's of American Independence

1. When stern oppression's ir - on rod, Was raised to crush our father's right; They call'd aloud on freedom's God, And bravely dar'd the patriot fight.

2. Bequeathed to us that glorious prize, Its ancient splendor yet re - tains; It still oppression's pow'r defies, And laughs at fee - ble tyrants chains.

3. From realm to realm, o'er all mankind, The knowledge of their rights shall fly; And monarchs, in dis - may, shall find, That lib - er - ty can nev - er die.

1. In vain against them, giant strength, Her strongest, fierest ef - forts made; Bright vict'ry crowned their arms, at length, They gain'd the boon for which they pray'd.

2. Of nations, we, the first, were bless'd, But soon, o'er all the peopled earth; Fair lib - er - ty shall be possess'd; The world shall rise in freedom's birth.

3. Re - 'oice, Columbia's sons, re - joice, The song of freedom loudly raise; And let ex - ul - ting heart and voice, Un - ite to swell our shouts of praise!
