Handwritten musical score on a single page, featuring ten staves of music. The notation is in a historical style, likely from the 18th or 19th century, using a system of diamond-shaped notes and stems. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The music is written in a single system, with the first staff ending with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The second staff begins with a new section, marked by a double bar line and a repeat sign. The third staff continues the music, and the fourth staff ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The fifth staff begins with a new section, marked by a double bar line and a repeat sign. The sixth staff continues the music, and the seventh staff ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The eighth staff begins with a new section, marked by a double bar line and a repeat sign. The ninth staff continues the music, and the tenth staff ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The page number 184 is written in the right margin, next to the seventh staff. Below the seventh staff, there is a decorative horizontal line with a repeating floral pattern. Below the decorative line, the number 7+ is written, followed by a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The word "Son." is written below the eighth staff. The music is written in a single system, with the eighth staff ending with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The ninth staff begins with a new section, marked by a double bar line and a repeat sign. The tenth staff continues the music, and the page ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.
