Preface

The Responsories in this little volume are those given in the Matins and Vespers Orders of the Common Service, to which the Responsories of the Burial Service in the Church Book have been added.

The Responsoy, following immediately upon the Lesson, is a characteristic and beautiful element of the historic Liturgy. As it is sung by the choir alone, it affords an opportunity in the Service for the use of the freer forms of harmonized settings suitable for mixed voices.

Desiring to provide a musical setting for the Responsories which should represent the ablest and best in original modern musical composition, and at the same time, in formal churchly dignity and devotional restraint, be in entire harmony with the authentic historic music given in The Choral Service Book, The Psalter and Canticles, Season Vespers and other Service Books prepared by them, the Editors have been deeply gratified in enlisting the interest and services of the eminent composer Dr. Max Reger, with whom personal arrangements were made for this work.

With sympathetic understanding of the earlier volumes in the series, Dr. Reger has produced the compositions which are now offered to the Church as a further enrichment of her beautiful Liturgy.

By special agreement with the Editors, Dr. Reger expressly retains the right of rendition of these compositions at any public recital or concert at which an admission fee is required. Arrangement for such rendition may be made through the publishers.

The musical score consists of eight staves of music. The first four staves are soprano voices, and the last four are bass voices. The key signature is one sharp (F#). The tempo is indicated by a 'G' with a diagonal line through it. The vocal parts sing in unison, with lyrics appearing below each staff. The lyrics are: 'per, and shall ex - e - cute judg - ment and jus - tice in the earth.' followed by a repeat sign and 'And this is His Name where-by He shall be call - ed, The'. The music features various note values including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. Measure numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 are present above the staves. The score concludes with a final bass line on staff 8.

The Choral Service Book

SECOND EDITION—REVISED

Containing the Authentic Plain Song Intonations and Responses

For the Order of Morning Service, the Orders of Matins and Vespers, the Litany and the Suffrages of the Common Service, with Accompanying Harmonies for Organ.

A Restoration of the Historical Liturgical Music of the Church upon the basis of a careful and comprehensive study of the entire field of Service Music. Beautiful, simple Responses. Complete setting of Introits for Choir. Historical Intonations for Minister for full Choral Service. Preface and Bibliography (50 pp.) of great value to all students of the Liturgy and its Music.

This handsomely printed book is one of uncommon quality and importance. . . . It is indispensable for Lutherans, and of value to all who take an interest in Church Music.—Music, Chicago, Ill.

All the examples given are of the purest, and the general arrangement of the work is admirable. The book is a beautiful example of the printer's art.—The Churchman, N. Y.

It is an excellent book in every way, the music being perhaps beyond criticism for correctness and appropriateness.—The Living Church.

We are unearthing the treasures of our fathers one by one, and this is not the least of them. . . . He has little appreciation for the peculiar genius of our Church who will not heartily welcome this volume. . . . The lengthy preface is worthy of study, and we wish that every Lutheran minister would devote himself to the careful reading and perusal of the entire book; it would mean the death of an excessive individualism in the conduct of the worship in our churches.—The Luther League Review.

The work of the editors merits the highest commendation. They have done what Merbecke did for the Book of Common Prayer, and far more. Every page of their book gives evidence of the most extensive and thorough investigation of sources, of a most intimate acquaintance with Liturgics and Service Music, and of a most reverent handling of the material. . . .

When once Church Music begins to receive serious attention among us—above all in our theological seminaries, and pastors, organists and choirmasters learn to understand the intimate relation between the Liturgy and its musical interpretation, then will the Choral Service Book, with its companion volume, the Psalter and Canticles, by the same editors, come to be regarded as the most important contribution to the musical literature of the English Lutheran Church in America.—The Rev. J. F. Ohl, Mus. Doc., in The Lutheran.

STYLE.—Printed on an exceptionally fine quality of paper, in two colors throughout, with rubricated initial letters, rubrics and border; ornamental tail-pieces; 280 pages, bound in black cloth, stamped in gold.

PRICE—$1.00 per copy, postpaid; $9.00 net per dozen copies.

This book is the most important one that has been issued in the liturgical history of the American Lutheran Church since the appearance of the Church Book and the Common Service. The book is so important because of the greatness of its ideals, the boldness and power of the arguments it presents in behalf of these ideals, the value which it aspires to place on its results, the completeness of the mastery of a very complex field from which it has established these results, and the evidences of a thorough theoretical and practical knowledge of both the historical and the scientific sides of ecclesiastical music, including both the Roman, the Anglican and in all completeness, the Lutheran bodies of historical material.

It presents one great issue and a number of minor issues in the most fearless manner. There is a ring of certainty and boldness about its words that seems born of the assurance of victory. It throws down the gauntlet in no uncertain tone.

Both the principal claims made and the fundamental principles on which they are based are far-reaching in their character. The claims indeed will be startling to some. They are, e. g., that we have here for the first time in the English language the one and only Service in which we may properly embody the liturgical worship of the Lutheran Church; that in fact the music of this book is the worthy and only worthy accompaniment to the Common Service of the Lutheran Church.

With the principles of this book we are in most hearty and full agreement.—The Rev. Dr. T. E. Schmauk, in The Lutheran.

The Psalter and Canticles

Containing the entire Psalter and the Canticles pointed for chanting to the GREGORIAN PSALM TONES; a Plain Song setting for Matins and Vespers; accompanying Harmonies and Tables of Proper Psalms.

With an Introduction by THE REV. D. H. GEISSINGER, D.D.

We welcome this book and commend it not only to churches, but especially to schools, colleges and seminaries.—The Lutheran World.

This work cannot be too highly commended. We have used it twice daily in our devotional exercises of the Seminary, at Matins and Vespers.—The Chicago Lutheran Seminary Record.

A very beautifully appointed, liturgically correct directory for the historic Psalmody of the Church. . . . We rejoice over the beautiful work.—Siona, Gütersloh, Germany.

This is a learned work, and its publication, both as a work of our own authors and as an attempt to meet the wants of our Church, is an evidence of the immense progress we have made in the last decade. This beautiful book will inform and elevate the Church.—The Lutheran Church Review.

The Psalter and Canticles is intended primarily for the use of Evangelical Lutheran congregations, but is one of those productions which the Church Universal will welcome and of which wide advantage will be taken.—The Congregationalist, Boston.

This book should be hailed with enthusiasm, as being the first complete Psalter of our English Lutheran Church. That our English Lutheran Church should be able to produce a book on this scale—a book also which boldly goes back to the main stream of church song and plants itself on the precedent of the Church Universal and of the Reformation, instead of clinging in dependency to the softer and sweeter English form, and to the Church which believes itself to be the musical pacemaker for English Protestantism, is a gratifying achievement.—The Lutheran Church Review.

This work is the most notable contribution of our time to the reintroduction into Christian worship of the chanting of the Psalms by the people, in the simple, sweet and majestic melodies of the early ages of the Church. The typographical work, the careful pointing of the Psalms with each word and syllable under its proper note, the ingenious use of light and heavy faced type and italics to indicate correct accent and emphasis; in short, the whole contents of the book and its entire make-up leave nothing to be desired, and are a credit to editors and publishers. It is far in advance, we believe, of any similar publication in the language.—The Christian Intelligencer.
