They tell me she is not so fair, That time has chang'd her ra - ven hair And scatter'd snows un - time - ly there; Sad change to see! They say her mer - ry laugh is gone, Her voice has lost its cheer - ful tone, 4 a piacere,

 And that she oft - en weeps a - lone, Poor Ro - - - - sa - lie!

We ne'er must meet, I could not bear To mark how ear - ly pain and care May mark a beau - ty once so rare, Sad change to see! I lov'd her but in 5 vain I lov'd, For in a prou - der sphere she mov'd; More
