

5
11009
11-9-09

To my Friend
Robert Thallon Esq.
Brooklyn, N.Y.

Song ² AND Chorus

Mother's Old Slipper

Words and Music by Charles Carroll Sawyer.

Author of:

"WHO WILL CARE FOR MOTHER NOW," "MOTHER WOULD COMFORT ME," "WHEN THIS CRUEL WAR IS OVER,"
"SWINGING IN THE LANE," Etc.

BROOKLYN, N.Y.

PUBLISHED BY Frank P. Anderson, 298 FULTON ST.

NEW YORK: C.H. DITSON & Co. CHICAGO: LYON & HEALY. PHILADELPHIA: J.E. DITSON & Co. CINCINNATI: J. CHURCH & Co. BOSTON: WHITE, SMITH & Co.

Copyright May 1885 by Charles Carroll Sawyer.

My Mother's Old Slipper.

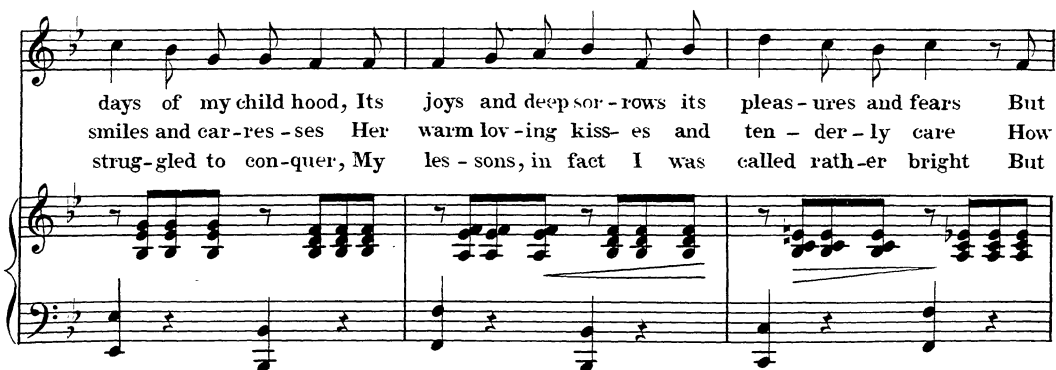

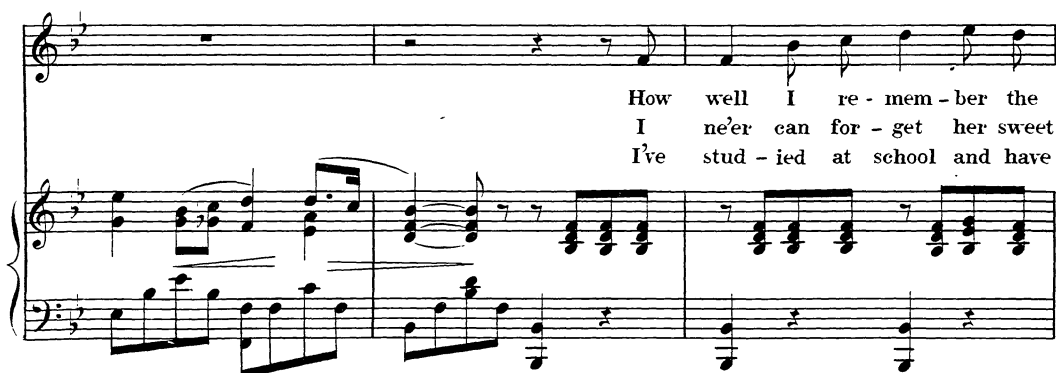

SONG & CHORUS.

Words & Music by

CHARLES CARROLL SAWYER.

INTRODUCTION.

Moderato.

noth-ing e'er left such a last-ing im-pres-sion As mother's old slip-per, its of - ten she'd cheer me with kind words of com-fort But mother's old slip-per, still as to real smartness with out hes-i - ta - tion My mother's old slip-per, pro - hor - rors and tears I've met with dis - as - ter, and braved ma - ny dan - gers, Been rai - ses my hair If I should displease her, be cross or un - ru - ly, Grow duced it at sight If I "stood" at the ta - ble, while eat - ing my din - ner And threatened with ex - ter-min - a - tion and death, Been ship-wrecked and left on a sul - ky and care-less re - fuse to o - bey 'Twas but for a mo - ment, I sis - ter should whisper "sit down Char-lie pray," I'd give her a look of com -

mf

molto rit

des - o - late Is - land But mothers old slip-per is what took my breath.
knew what was coming My mothers old slip-per soon car - ried the day.
plete des - o - la - tion My mothers old slip-per was all I could say.

colla voce

CHORUS.

Sop.

My mothers old slipper that ter - rible slipper That loose fitting slipper my mother did wear. When Alto.

Ten.

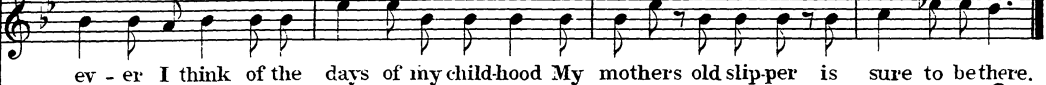

Bass.

ev - er I think of the days of my childhood My mothers old slipper is sure to be there. rit.

ev - er I think of the days of my childhood My mothers old slipper is sure to be there. rit.

