INSIDE THE BAR.

(A SAILOR'S SONG.)

I knows a town, and it's a fine town,
 An' many a brig goes sailin' to its quay;
 I knows an inn, and it's a fine inn,
 An' a lass that's fair to see.
 I knows a town, and it's a fine town;
 I knows an inn, and it's a fine inn—
 But O my lass, an' O the gay gown
 Which I have seen my pretty in!

I knows a port, and it's a good port,
 An' many a brig is ridin' easy there;
 I knows a home, and it's a good home,
 An' a lass that's sweet an' fair.
 I knows a port, and it's a good port,
 I knows a home, and it's a good home—
 But O the pretty that is my sort,
 What's wearyin' till I come!

I knows a day, and it's a fine day,
 The day a sailor-man comes back to town;
 I knows a tide, and it's a good tide,
 The tide that gets you quick to anchors down.
 I knows a day, and it's a fine day,
 I knows a tide, and it's a good tide—
 And God help the lubber, I say,
 What's stole the sailor-man's bride!
