ALPINE STORM

A SUMMER IDYL.

This composition may be called a tone picture of pastoral summer life. All is peace in the Alpine valley where the young shepherd tends his sheep. For the time being, however, he has left the responsibility of the care of his flock to his faithful and well-trained dogs, for his mind is now upon the lamb of another flock, Lisette, whose mother's cottage he can see in the distance. He thinks that even now he spies her in the meadow caressing her pet lamb, and he takes up his oboe in the hope that some faint echo of her favorite love song may reach her ears and tell her that Jacques is thinking of her. While he is playing this melody, the distant thunder of an approaching summer shower is heard, but, too much absorbed in his music or the thoughts of her who is its inspiration, he hears it not and continues to play. A louder rumble, however, recalls him to the present realities of life and the necessities of his fleecy charge, and changing his tune, he gives his dogs the signal to drive the flock under shelter. Hardly is this done when the rain begins to fall and the storm's precursor, the wind, to hiss through the mountain pines. Soon the storm breaks in all its fury, the mountain torrents leap from rock to rock, the trees twist their arms as if in agony and bend before the Storm King as if asking mercy at his hands. Their prayer is heard. The Storm King departs; the sun breaks through the clouds; a million rain-drops sparkle like diamonds on each tree; the birds twitter to their mates in the branches; the young shepherd signals his flock to return to the pasture and resumes his song to his love in the distance, while the faint and fainter rumble of the thunder tells that the storm is now disappearing in the farness.

to his dogs to bring the flock under shelter.

The musical score for 'L'Espresso' by Liszt is presented in two systems. The first system is marked pp (pianissimo) and features a treble clef with a key signature of two flats. The melody is composed of eighth and sixteenth notes, with fingerings 1, 5, 3, and 2 indicated above the notes. The bass clef part consists of a dense, continuous sixteenth-note accompaniment. The second system begins with a mf (mezzo-forte) dynamic marking and a Ped. (pedal) instruction. It includes the instruction p una corda. (piano on one string) and continues with the same melodic and accompanimental patterns. The score concludes with a ppp (pianississimo) marking and a final Ped. instruction.

The rain begins to fall.

NOTE.—At A, a terrific thunder clash is to be heard. This is effected by striking with the palm of the left hand in the bass, fff all the keys possible—after which the roll of the thunder continues as written. This crash, well executed, produces an immense effect.

FINALE I.

Tempo I  144.

The shepherd resumes his love song, while

The musical score is for a piece titled "The Shepherd Resumes His Love Song, while" (Tempo 1). It is written for a single melodic line on a treble clef staff. The key signature has one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 3/4. The score is divided into four measures. The first measure starts with a forte (ff) dynamic and includes the instruction "tre corde. una corda." followed by a piano (pp) dynamic. The second measure continues with the same dynamics. The third measure starts with a forte (ff) dynamic and includes the instruction "tre corde. una corda." followed by a mezzo-piano (mp) dynamic. The fourth measure continues with the same dynamics. The score includes various musical notations such as eighth and sixteenth notes, rests, and fingerings (e.g., 3, 2, 1, 3, 2, 3). There are also performance instructions like "Ped." (pedal) and "echo." (echo). The tempo marking "Tempo 1" is at the top right.

the thunder gradually dies away in the distance.

The musical score for 'The Thunder' is presented in two systems. The first system consists of two staves, treble and bass, with a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a 2/4 time signature. The melody in the treble staff features a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, with fingerings indicated by numbers 1-5. The bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with eighth notes. The second system continues the piece, maintaining the same musical style and notation. Pedal markings are present at the end of several phrases, indicating where to depress the sustain pedal.

A choice of two finales is given. Number two is for the more advanced performer.

First system of musical notation, measures 1-8. The music is in G major (one sharp) and 3/4 time. The right hand features a complex melodic line with many slurs and fingerings (e.g., 2 4 1, 5 3 2, 2 4 3 1 2 5 1 4). The left hand plays a steady eighth-note accompaniment. Pedal points are indicated with asterisks and the word "Ped." below the staff. A dynamic marking of mf is present at the beginning of the system.

Second system of musical notation, measures 9-16. The right hand continues with intricate melodic patterns and slurs. The left hand maintains the eighth-note accompaniment. Pedal points are marked with asterisks and "Ped." below the staff.

Third system of musical notation, measures 17-24. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and fingerings. The left hand features a dense, rapid sixteenth-note accompaniment. Pedal points are marked with asterisks and "Ped." below the staff. Dynamic markings include f and pp. Text instructions "una corda." and "tre corde." are written above the right hand staff.

Fourth system of musical notation, measures 25-32. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and fingerings. The left hand continues with the dense sixteenth-note accompaniment. Pedal points are marked with asterisks and "Ped." below the staff. Dynamic markings include f and pp. Text instructions "una corda." and "echo." are written above the right hand staff.

Fifth system of musical notation, measures 33-40. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and fingerings. The left hand continues with the dense sixteenth-note accompaniment. Pedal points are marked with asterisks and "Ped." below the staff. Dynamic markings include pp. Text instructions "una corda." and "echo." are written above the right hand staff. The system concludes with a double bar line and a final chord marked with a double bar line and a final chord.

FINALE II.

For very advanced performers.

Birds singing.

The musical score is written for piano and features complex rhythmic patterns, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. It includes various musical notations such as p (piano), Ped. (pedal), and mf (mezzo-forte). The score is divided into systems, each with a treble and bass staff. The first system is marked "Birds singing." and includes a p dynamic. The score concludes with a mf dynamic and a Ped. marking.
