

THE MOON IS OUT TO-NIGHT, LOVE.

Composed by W. S. HAYS.

Arranged with Chorus by T. CRAMPTON.

Allegretto.

PIANO. mf

1. The moon is out to-night, love, Float - ing thro' the sky, Lit - tle stars are laugh - ing As she pas - ses by ;
 2. The moon is out to-night, love, All the ro - ses blush, When the gen - tle night - winds Tell the birds to hush ;

All the mer - ry songsters Sing a mer - ry tune, As hap - py as they can be, While sing - ing to the moon.
 Now I want to lis - ten For a mer - ry voice, Whose ev - 'ry note is mu - sic Which makes my heart re - jice.

Clouds with sil - ver lin - ing Are wait - ing in the sky For the moon to pass them, Kit - ty, so am I ;
 Kit - ty, I am watch - ing To see if I can see Some one like a fai - ry Coming here to me.

For I've come to meet you With a hap - py smile, To tell you how I love you While sit - ting on the stile.
 Ah! the lit - tle an - gel, Com - ing once a - gain, I have a kiss of true love For Kit - ty of the glen.

SOPRANO.
ALTO.

TENOR.
BASS.

PIANO.

The moon is out to-night, love, Meet me with a smile, I've something sweet to tell you, Sitting on the stile.

Kiss me when you meet me, Kit - ty of the Glen, And when I go to leave you I'll have it back a-gain.