Adagio.

The first system of the Adagio section is written for piano. It features a complex texture with rapid sixteenth-note passages in the right hand and sustained, often chromatic, lines in the left hand. Pedal points are indicated with 'Ped.' and a wedge symbol. The key signature has one sharp (F#) and the time signature is common time (C).

The second system continues the Adagio section. It includes dynamic markings such as 'f' (forte) and 'dim.' (diminuendo). The texture remains dense with intricate fingerings and sustained notes in the left hand. A 'Ped.' marking is also present.

Allegro Vivace.

The third system marks the beginning of the Allegro Vivace section. The tempo and energy increase significantly. The right hand features rapid, flowing sixteenth-note patterns, while the left hand provides a steady harmonic accompaniment. The dynamic marking 'ff' (fortissimo) is used.

The fourth system continues the Allegro Vivace section. It maintains the fast, rhythmic character with intricate melodic lines in the right hand and supporting chords in the left hand.

The fifth system continues the Allegro Vivace section. The right hand has a prominent melodic line with many sixteenth notes, while the left hand continues with a steady accompaniment.

The sixth system is the final one on this page of the Allegro Vivace section. It features a powerful and fast conclusion to the piece, with 'ff' (fortissimo) dynamics and rapid sixteenth-note passages in the right hand.
